Teach communities how to complete and maintain these projects independently.

Every year, 1.5 million children die from waterborne diseases—that's one child every 20 seconds. It doesn't have to be this way. When a community gains access to clean water, child mortality rates are cut in half, and families are given the chance to thrive.

Through our work in some of the most remote areas of Honduras, we are bringing life-changing solutions with the biosand water filter, providing families with safe, pure drinking water for the first time. This project not only transforms physical health but also opens the door for us to share about the Living Water of Jesus Christ, offering both hope for today and eternity.

Community Improvement

We partner with communities on improvement projects that not only meet physical needs but also build meaningful relationships. Through these efforts, we share biblical and spiritual truths to make disciples of Jesus Christ

Water Purification

We install biosand water filters to bring clean water, improve health, and transform the daily lives of families in need.

Teaching

We equip local leaders with knowledge and practical demonstrations on how to build and maintain water filtration systems

Relationships

Partnering with existing ministries and local leaders, creating strong and lasting connections with indigenous communities. This allows us to start discipleship groups and plant churches

Training

Through written resources and hands-on instruction, we empower communities to continue the work independently, ensuring sustainability for future generations.

Communication

Sharing updates through newsletters, social media, and other platforms, inviting people to stay informed and become part of this ministry.
